

I love the "No-Call List". The annoying, sometimes rude, telemarketing calls have been reduced dramatically since we've sign up. I feel if we make one acception to the rule, then more organizations, etc. will want to join the band wagon and have their areas be an exception. This is one way to protect the unaware consumers when there is so much out there waiting to take advantage of us.